Assemblywoman Karen McMahon was elected in 2018 to represent the towns of Amherst and Pendleton and the village of Williamsville.

She was raised in Snyder, New York, so she is very familiar with the area that she represents. She currently resides in Williamsville with her husband, and is the proud mother of three daughters, Emily, Alison and Sarah.

Karen possesses her undergrad degree and her Law degree from the University of Buffalo and has experience in the both the private and public sector. For 30 years she served as the confidential law clerk to judges of New York State Appellate Division, Forth Department and United States District Court for the Western District of New York State.

In 2016, just prior to running for the Assembly, she joined her husband, Attorney Jeff Marcus in private practice.

Assemblywoman McMahon served on the Committee in the village of Williamsville for the Environment Advisory, as well as the Village Master Plan Revision Committee.

She is a member of the Women’s Bar Association of New York , Western New York Chapter, a member of the Adirondack Mountain Club and the Adirondack Forty-Sixers Club.
